The PLOTMASTER™ is the perfect wildlife management tool for today's sportsmen and land managers who want to plant food plots and manage their recreational properties effectively. Because of its compact design, it is ideal for planting food plots in a variety of settings, including rough hard-to-get-to places such as firebreaks, utility right-of-ways, and small forest openings. Its compact design also allows you to reach remote, isolated areas without damaging trees and/or your equipment.

Plotmaster Systems, LLC. has added many new, innovative features to the new, improved PLOTMASTER™ Hunter Series. For example, each of these new units is equipped with PLOTMASTER's new, patent-pending VERSA-SEEDER™ system. This new reverse auger-brush seeder system will plant virtually any type of seed with ease including grass seeds and hard-to-plant seed blends. Therefore, these units are perfect for small/hobby farming, landscaping, as well as planting food plots and garden plots.

"The appeal of the new PLOTMASTER™ Hunter Series will be their versatility, durability, and affordability," shares Blaine Burley. "They're versatile in that they will perform several functions at once, thus saving time, energy and money for today's land managers."

Plotmaster Systems, LLC is headquartered at 111 Industrial Blvd., Wrightsville, GA, 31096.
